The Pittsburgh Daily Commercial.

VOL. 1.—NO. 37. PITTSBURGH, MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 19, 1863. PRICE THREE CENTS.

The Daily Commercial.

GEN. SICKLES.—Major General DAN. E. SICKLES, with his staff, has gone to the front of the army, so that in case of an engagement he will take command of his own corps.

A GENTLEMAN, named ASA P. POTTER, who started from Boston in May last, on horseback, for the Mississippi river, arrived home on Friday. He not only "watered his horse" in the Mississippi, but traveled over a good part of Northern Iowa and Illinois and Southern Wisconsin.

PUNCH, in his last issue, has one twinkle of wit. Here it is: "The other day, a lady, whose name, for obvious reasons, we forbear to mention, was supplied by an eminent dentist with a false set of teeth, and, curious to relate, she has ever since spoken in a falsetto voice."

BLOODHOUNDS.—A letter from Vicksburg, 30th inst., says: "The Mississippi Clarion publishes the advertisement of a pack of splendid bloodhounds for hunting negroes and conscripts, giving the price and address of the owner, a thing that could not be published anywhere else in Christendom."

THE trains over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and its branches are now running on their regular time and making their regular trips. The railroad from Nashville to Chattanooga is also reported in regular running condition.

AGNES PATTISON, described as "a fair little girl of about twenty years," has been sentenced to death in England for murdering her infant child. Her defense, delivered with tears, was touching: "I should not have done it, had not my father put me out of doors three years ago."

THE Ambrosian Library at Milan, has just suffered a heavy loss. An entire case containing the autograph correspondence of the MEDICI with the DUKES OF MILAN, from 1496 to 1510, has disappeared from the very study of DR. GATTI, the conservator. All of the Milan journals have spoken of this robbery, committed with strange effrontery and address.

THE wounded recently paroled and returned to our lines at Chattanooga by BRAGG had remained eight days on the field without having their wounds dressed. The Federal surgeons who were prisoners were not allowed to touch one of our wounded during the entire time they were there. The enemy had no supplies, and many of our men suffered.

A DAILY average of one killed and three wounded, will cover the casualties we have suffered in advancing our works since the evacuation of Morris Island. An occasional shell, however, now and then proves very fatal. One exploded in a group of men a few days since, killing five and wounding six. Another exploded under a wagon on the road into Wagner, and blew horses, wagon and teamster to pieces.

CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY.—Alabama papers of a late date say that a conflict of authority has taken place between the State and Confederate authorities in Butler county, Alabama, which has caused great excitement among the people. The town of Greenville is especially excited. The provost guard had been fired upon, and one person killed. Others were captured. Two companies of soldiers had been sent to keep the citizens of Butler county in submission.

COUNTRY NOT LARGE ENOUGH.—A correspondent of a London paper writes, "I have just returned from Germany after a month's knocking about. I had glorious weather, and saw all the little kings at Frankfort. There is a good anecdote of one of them. He wanted his army instructed in the use of the Armstrong gun but was obliged to ask leave of the next king to have the target put up in his kingdom, his own not being big enough for the Armstrong range.

THE Nashville Press says: Our citizens are paying about twelve dollars per cord for fuel, with a prospect of paying over twenty dollars so soon as the roads become bad. It is hardly worth while to grieve over the prospective sufferings of the poorest class of our population, which is very numerous, in consequence of these frightful prices, for there are multitudes of persons in good employment whose purses will be drained by fuel bills at such rates.

SOLDIER SHOT.—The Smyrna (Delaware) Times states that on the 5th instant a member of the 5th Maryland regiment, John Easton, from Baltimore, and Thomas Eutress, of the Delaware cavalry, got into an altercation at Weist's lager beer saloon, the former stabbing the latter twice with a bayonet, when Eutress drew his pistol and shot Easton, the ball passing clear through his side. He was conveyed to the Wilmington hospital on Tuesday evening. Doubts are expressed as to his recovery.

GEN. HEINTZELMAN.—Major General HEINTZELMAN has been relieved from the command of the Department of Washington, and is superseded by General AUGUR. This change has been anticipated for some time, with a view to bringing General H.'s services into the field, where he has always displayed no inconsiderable abilities as a commander. His particular destination is not known, though the command of a corps in the Army of the Potomac and the Texas expedition are both named.

A CORRESPONDENT of a London paper writes: "I have just returned from Germany, after a month's knocking about. I had glorious weather, and saw all the little kings at Frankfort. There is a good anecdote of one of them. He wanted his army instructed in the use of the Armstrong gun, and got one, but was obliged to ask leave of the next king to have the target put up in his kingdom, his own not being big enough for the Armstrong range!"

THE Boston Traveller is not very complimentary to the hero of the Mississippi when he says:—NEAL DOW is to be exchanged against JOHN MORGAN. This is an unfair arrangement, for General Dow has no more military capacity than belongs to the town pump, while General MORGAN is a clever soldier, possessing dash, energy, and powers of endurance—all things that are necessary to make a good raidsman. General Dow could not better serve his country than by staying in prison in order thus to keep a capable enemy shut up. Mr. Dow is a most estimable man, but he is no soldier."

A DEGENERATE SON.—The Petersburg Express, of October 7, says: "We regret to hear that Major General GEORGE H. THOMAS, who fought so obstinately under ROSECRANS, 'the lousy calf,' at Chicamauga, is a native of Southampton county, Va., and was born in Jerusalem, the county seat. It is said that General THOMAS has relatives in the county of Southampton who are deeply grieved at the course he has pursued. He is a graduate of West Point, and is said to possess military ability of a high order. The man must have a soft place in his head, we think."

IT is stated that all the crew of the Anglo-rebel pirate ship Alabama are British sailors.

IT is stated that a new discovery of gold has been made on a branch of the M'Kenzie's fork of the Williamette river, Oregon.

"How are you Greenbacks?" was the complimentary salutation that frequently greeted Secretary CHASE during his recent visit to his home in Ohio, during the election campaign.

THE INVALID CORPS.—By the 1st of November the invalid corps will number 12,000 men. They will fill the places of 10,000 men who are being sent to respective regiments in the field.

THE Great Eastern has been seized under an Admiralty warrant by the owners of the ship Jane, which vessel she ran down off the Irish coast. It is rumored that the Cunard Company propose to purchase the Great Eastern to convey coal to various ports for their vessels. A general meeting of shareholders was held in London on the 3d, and the proposition referred to a committee, with instructions to report in ten days.

MR. LICY, a writer in the Victoria Magazine, in an article on the American war, makes the following short work of the whole business: "A nation overburdened with prosperity, intoxicated with success, demoralized by wealth, has learned how to die as well as how to live, and that lesson is surely worth earning."

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

General News--The Christian and Sanitary Commissions--An Important Legal Case--One of our City Defenders come to Grief--The American Church Missionary Society--A Case of Poisoning--The Divorce Business--Lawyers and Conveyancers.

Special Correspondence to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16, 1863.

A very rainy, but warm and muggy day has just closed, with a good prospect for another of the same kind to-morrow. The dullness of the day, as regards the atmosphere, has been commensurate with the news, very little transpiring further than that which you were enabled to announce by telegraph. The Censor has once more resumed his sceptre, which we all thought had departed from him, as it did from some of the ancient Kings, and the mail is about all we shall have to depend upon to obtain the "War News," except it be some extraneous items.

The United States Christian Commission held a meeting in this city yesterday, commencing in the morning with appropriate exercise, the prayer being made by Bishop Janes, of New York. Various delegates from the different armies in the field were present, and the consideration of important reforms was proceeded with in harmony. To-day the meeting was resumed. Among other matters which received attention was the supply of newspapers and books of a proper character to our defenders in the Army and Navy, as well as a plan for the generalization and extension of the Commission's work in those spheres. The demands upon it have been great, so much so that it has been unable thus far to inaugurate certain enterprises which have been prominent in the minds of several of its originators for many months past. It is believed that the results of this meeting will be of such a character as will redound greatly to the reputation of the members of the Association and advance the spiritual and temporal welfare of both our soldiers and sailors. The labors of the Christian and Sanitary Commissions will be remembered in connection with the great Rebellion as long as good deeds are recorded in history.

In the District Court, to-day, Judge Sharswood, had a case before him which is of such general interest that I must give your readers the benefit of a resume of it. The case was between a book publisher and the Adams Express Company; the action being brought to recover the value of a number of packages which were delivered to the defendants to be forwarded to Winchester in 1862. The goods were destroyed in the warehouse of the Company, at Winchester, by fire, on the 25th of May, 1862, and as there was a stipulation that unless delivered within thirty days the goods were to be returned to the consignor, the claim is preferred. There was a dispnte in regard to the date from which to count the thirty days.

Judge Sharswood instructed the jury to count from the date of the bill of lading, and to find for the plaintiff if the goods were burnt after the thirty days had expired. The defence set up that on the day the thirty days had expired the military authorities took possession of the railroad, and hence it was impossible to return the goods to the consignor. Judge Sharswood ruled that this would relieve the defendants from liability.

The jury have not rendered a verdict in the case, but will probably be governed by the ruling of the Court.

We are just informed that one of the fortifications erected for the defense of the city has been cut in twain by the track of the Junction railroad—a road now in process of building to connect the Philadelphia & Trenton and Philadelphia & Wilmington Pennsylvania Central roads—near Gray's Ferry Bridge. As the Junction road had been surveyed and laid out before Lee's last raid was thought of, it will not be a very creditable affair for the sapient engineers, fort-builders, or whatever they please to call themselves. The whole upshot of the affair is simply this: The city was defenseless when Lee came into Pennsylvania, and her citizens were anxious that efforts should be instantly put forth to prepare for any contingency that might arise. Even then, shysters were watching for their plunder, and the result is that a parcel of unmitigated speculators and adventurers got hold of the work, and diddled us out of a pretty sum, besides leaving us as defenceless as before. Now, too, we are told that one of our forts must be destroyed by a railroad company. The fellows who engineered those defenses ought to be made to demolish them by digging them down with their hands.

The American Church Missionary Society held its fourth anniversary meeting last night. Bishop Lee, of Iowa, Rev. Dr. Tyng, of New York, and other prominent clergymen were present. The whole number of Missionaries employed during the past year, has been thirty-eight. The annual report shows the amount of receipts during the year to have been $19,189 41; the balance from last year, $6,265 03; total, $25,454-44. The expenses have been: For missions under the care of the committee, $12,196 68; for special mission, $606 24; for foreign mission, $4,477 16; other expenses, $840 13. total, $18,120 21. Balance in the treasury, $7,334 23.

An old gentleman named Toole, living up town, was poisoned last evening in a mysterious manner. A grocer living opposite burst a barrel of flour in some manner, and he told the deceased to gather up some, as it would be useful to make paste, etc. This he did, and afterwards sent some of it to a neighboring woman, who made some pudding from it, and sent it to him, also giving her children some. Mr. Toole partook of it and soon died, but the children have since recovered. Some of the pudding was placed in the street and was partaken of by a goat, dog, and some chickens, all of which died soon after eating it. The inquest failed to discover what the flour contained which produced such sad results.

For the term beginning in June and ending in September, there were in this county forty-nine applications for divorce. These applications are generally for a full divorce from the bonds of matrimony, but sometimes they are for a divorce "from bed and board." There is an average of about three divorces every Saturday during the Court, or over one hundred in a year. The number of "grass widows" since the war has been greatly augmented. Taken all in all, the legal fraternity are doing a thrifty business. There never was a better time for the Conveyancers and them, than the present, and from indications it will remain so while our affairs continue so unsettled. For a man now-a-days to get settled into any kind of conveyancing business is to become rich very soon—providing he chooses to take advantages of opportunities.

SATURDAY MORNING COMMERCIAL.

Saturday last we issued the first number of The Saturday Morning Commercial, and we are of the opinion that our patrons will find it the handsomest weekly ever published in Pittsburgh. Its wide columns are filled with the cream of the news obtainable up to the hour of going to press, which fact, with its large, clear type, cannot fail to recommend it to all classes of readers. Among the contents of the first number will be found the following:

Poetry—"The Dead Wife;" "A Dear Young Lady."
Sketches of Maj. Gens. Grant and Sherman.
The New Manufacturing Law, complete.
Special Correspondence from Philadelphia, Chattanooga, &c.
Special Telegrams from Washington, Philadelphia, and elsewhere.
Latest telegraphic dispatches from all important points.
Important Financial News.
Pittsburgh Produce, Grocery, Oil and Cattle Markets, together with important markets from other points.
Latest Local News, including the returns of the late election.
Editorials on a variety of subjects of national interest.
Farm and Garden news, prepared by an experienced gentleman.

Together with an immense amount of general news, prepared with the greatest care; all going to make up such a weekly newspaper as has never been furnished the reading community in the West.

The Saturday Commercial can be had at the office, 72 and 74 Fifth street, 2d floor, opposite the Post-office. Single copies, price five cents; per annum, $2 00; in clubs, $1 50. For subscriptions, address, "Commercial Printing Company."

FOUR persons were bitten by a mad dog in Charlestown, Mass., on Tuesday last.

THE stevedores of Boston are striking for fifty cents an hour, which will make their wages only five dollars a day.

TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY sail of mackerel fishermen were in sight of Cape Cod, on Wednesday, all briskly at work.

MISS CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN, the celebrated American tragedienna, is in Washington, the guest of Secretary SEWARD.

JEFF DAVIS' journey is said to be with a view to examining matters at Charleston. GILMORE must send a Greek fire-shell to honor the arrival.

MRS. JESSIE FREMONT is yet at Nahant, enjoying the beauties of the sea-girt shore. The general is proprietor of one of the finest houses on the peninsula.

A LETTER from the advance of the Texas expedition, says: "General WEITZEL has authority to mount his whole division, and will do so as soon as we can pick up the horses."

Two of our ablest astronomers, Dr. BRUNOW, for many years director of the Observatory at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and Dr. PETERS, since 1858 director of the Observatory at Hamilton College, in this State, have resigned their positions.

IT is said that Professor BARTLETT, of the Chicago Theological Seminary, declines accepting his appointment to the Professorship of Sacred Literature in the Seminary at Andover, and that he is engaged in efforts to endow a professorship in the first-named institution.

GEN. GRIERSON, the hero of the great southwestern cavalry expedition, had a public reception at Jacksonville, Illinois, his home, some days since. One of the features of the occasion was the presentation to him, by several young men of the town, of a silver tea-set.

MR. JOHN GOODNOW, one of the last of the Revolutionary pensioners of Massachusetts, died on the 13th inst., at Sudbury, in that State, at the advanced age of one hundred and one years and thirteen days. Since this venerable man was born four sovereigns have occupied the throne of England, while fifteen Presidents have served their terms of office in the United States.

JEFFERSON COUNTY RETURNS.—We have received from the Brookville Republican an extra, which announces that Jefferson county will give about sixty Union majority for the State ticket. The entire Union county ticket will be elected by a small majority, although the democrats claim the election of their Prothonotary and Treasurer.

THE Gettysburg Sentinel notices the address of Miss ANNA DICKINSON, on Saturday evening week: "The court house was crowded to excess. And such an address! There was but one general burst of admiration from all who heard her, that they never had listened to such a speech. Her distinct utterance, and the roll of her voice, with its vast compass, filled every part of the room, and even reached the street."

THE Boston Transcript says that after the last severe rain-storm the summits of the White and Franconia Mountains, New Hampshire, were clothed in snow, and made a magnificent appearance at a distance of twenty miles. The warm sun soon melted the snow, but the artists who lingered among the mountains had sufficient time to sketch the rich contrast between the brilliant autumnal hues of the forest and the mountain tops in their wintry robes,

COLONEL JAMES P. HAMBLETON, editor of the Atlanta Confederacy, and author of the Hambletonian method of levying black mail, was on Thursday committed to the Old Capital Prison in Washington. He was in Fort Lafayette some months ago, was released on his parole not to give help or information to the enemy, and was recently caught, as we are informed, endeavoring to make his way to the South through our lines, with medicines and arms.

THE ELECTIONS in Pennsylvania and Ohio settle the question of "peace at any price." The people decide unequivocally that they want the rebellion put down by all the power the Government can properly command, and there is nothing left for the Administration to do but to carry out the people's wishes by a vigorous prosecution of the war. The sooner they end it, the better it will be for the country, and the sooner they take the measures necessary to end it, the better it will be for themselves.

THE colony of freedmen on Island No. 10, in the Mississippi, is in a highly prosperous condition. There are, in all, nine hundred persons, two hundred and twenty of whom are children at school. The colony owns a sewing machine, and there are a number of women already capable of making their own garments. At Corinth there is a similar colony, numbering 2,186 men, 1,092 women, and 578 children. Over 500 of the men are in the employ of the Government, 848 are employed by individuals, and some are workers in the camp. There are two schools, with 470 pupils; 350 of whom have learned to read. Eleven hundred men have enlisted from this colony in the United States army.

The Post of Friday, in answer to our charge upon it of mendacity in relation to the fairness and quietude of the election, meanly attempts to escape the issue it has made by an effort to depreciate the honesty of one of our most successful and worthy fruitists and horticulturists. If any such frauds exist as insinuated by the Post, why not prosecute? A guilty knowledge and its concealment is as bad in morals as the crime. "Bark again, you Dunn-y dog."

We cannot be drawn from our purpose, which is to expose the lying puppyism of the charge that our elections were unfairly held, or that bribery and terrorism prevailed in this community. We intend that the charge shall be withdrawn or apologized for. On their unfounded statements the copperhead party relies for support. We will endeavor to change its base: not after the manner of little MAC, (with loss to truth and justice,) but in a straight forward way.

The Post is now inviting the indignant copperheads of the 1st ward to a meeting, that proper measures may be taken to prove that they voted for WOODWARD. We wish them every success in this effort. Let the record be faithfully made up, that our citizens may know and duly appreciate the lurking traitors.

A cotemporary complains of the "bloody Third." We do not. That its misguided and prejudiced majority voted against the Union is not our fault. Many men who had sworn to support the Constitution, by their voices, without affidavit, repudiated it. This is their crime—not ours.

We know that the efforts of the Post to bring against the Union cause a "religious and sectarian" bigotry, had its influence. That a true-hearted and impulsive people—being urged to disregard the time-honored sentiments so eloquently proclaimed by the O'CONNELLS, BURKES, GRATTANS and CURRANS of their father-land against the oppressions exercised by privileged classes (the slave owners and their sympathizers) over the down-trodden and poor, and in vindication of honest labor and manhood—forgot for a moment the duty they owed to their own manhood, is to be regretted. The Post, by its bad advice, has secured a temporary triumph, but its day of influence is gone, and we trust forever.

We call upon the particular denomination of christians, whom it desires to use and abuse, to rebuke such attempts in the future. They cannot consent, by a falsehood on their past history, to aid in building up a party equally hostile to its teachings, interest and honored defenders.

We most cordially invite, and will embrace within fraternal arms, all men of all connections, countries, faiths or political affinities, who are willing to unite with us in the great work of preserving our glorious old Government—its free institutions, its constitution and its laws—rich or poor, bond or free, native or foreign born. All are our brothers except VALLANDIGHAM, Bill REED, slavery-loving HOPKINS, or Justice WOODWARD.

If any sect or peculiar people intend to separate as such from the masses, and set itself, or themselves, above or beyond the powers of the government, or deny allegiance thereto, we warn it and them to beware of the consequences.

But the first ward must be investigated. We have said we invite scrutiny. Let "Bleach Bones" and the whole crew of that ilk loose. Do not bring us, we pray you, before LOWRIE and WOODWARD—to any other tribunal we are contented to submit.

The honest Democrats of the first and other wards, who refused to be guided by the counsels of the Post, and dropped from their tickets the names of the condidates who would have disfranchised the soldiers, and desired to make slave labor the supreme good of the land, will be glad to be heard.

Treason has no resting place in this glorious old country, and the sooner the "Penitentiary Inspectors" learn the fact the better for them.

THE debt of the Confederacy is alarming some of the legislators of that region. WIGFALL, who, if a fire-eater, has a great deal of good sense upon public matters, is out in the Richmond Whig, against the government issuing so much paper, which has inflated prices till the common necessaries of life cost five times the ordinary price. The merchant, forced to pay in gold for his importations, must charge specie prices. The farmer protects himself from what he calls the merchant's extortion by advancing the price of his produce, and the mechanic must advance his wages in order to live. The government, which sells nothing and buys everything, and buys it upon credit for the tax-payers by issuing paper, to be finally redeemed in specie, is piling up continually a monument of debt, which will take all the earnings of the people finally to pay. WIGFALL'S remedy for this is that the people in the Southern States shall invest their surplus in government bonds, which will supply it with money to carry on the war and relieve it of the necessity of issuing any more treasury notes. This remedy the citizens do not appear disposed to take willingly, and this fact is the best evidence that they have but little confidence in the ability of the rebel government to sustain itself. If they thought the investment secure, they would be eager to buy bonds at eight per cent. interest and considerably below par.

MAXIMILIAN ACCEPTS CONDITIONALLY.—MAXIMILIAN will accept the crown offered him over Mexico, provided the Mexicans themselves desire him to do so, and that the crown shall be be guaranteed to him after he accepts it. The first condition is likely to relieve him of a great deal of future discomfort. There is just about as much likelihood of the Mexicans themselves voluntarily putting a yoke on their own necks, as there is of the French Emperor allowing fairly the popularity of his acts in Mexico to be tested by such a decision. If an election should be held in Mexico, he will know how to secure a majority, but that any fair or free decision by the people will be allowed, few knowing his past history will believe. Though the Emperor's army holds the capital, the amount of territory that he controls is an insignificant spot compared with the whole of Mexico. He cannot spare troops enough to cover any more territory, and where his armies do not occupy the the people are as violent in their opposition as ever. If MAXIMILIAN is not particular, he can get the consent he desires, but if he means what he says, he will never wear the Mexican crown.

A LONG NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.—An umbrella has long been considered as belonging to the stock of common property which anybody may appropriate who can first lay hands upon it. An ingenious inventor, named FOOTE, who believes in the sacredness of private rights, and that umbrellas are not exempted from exclusive possession, has invented an umbrella lock stand, which secures to every owner of an umbrella his unalienable right to it. It is like an ordinary umbrella stand, but as soon as the umbrella is placed in it, a revolving plate grasps and secures it, and can only be unlocked by a key no bigger than a dime, and easily carried in the pocket. This article has been introduced into Philadelphia for sale. Some inventor has only to secure a man's hat in the same way to make his personal chattels proof against being carried off against his will.

OUT of about four thousand Ohio soldiers in the hospitals at Nashville, Tenn., and in the camps in the vicinity canvassed, only eight Vallandigham votes have been heard of.

The Recent Elections.

Ohio elects JOHN BROUGH with a majority of over 50,000; a gain of nearly 30,000.

Pennsylvania elects ANDREW G. CURTIN with a majority of about 20,000.

Indiana has elected nearly the whole Union ticket.

Nebraska, on the 13th, held an election for members of the Legislature. The House will probably stand twenty-seven Uniontsts to twelve Democrats; the Council, eight Unionists to five Democrats.

Baltimore, on Wednesday, held an election for City Councils, resulting in the success of all the uneconditional Unton candidates.

These facts conclusively prove that the North sustains the Administration, is satisfied with its management of the war, and approves of its policy and purposes. The only State which now stands in prominent opposition to the Government is New York, and New York only so far as her immense influence is controlled by HORATIO SEYMOUR. That the people of the Empire State will elect the Union ticket in November is now a certainty, and that success will be the final triumph at the polls essential to final triumph on the field.

EDITORIAL comments on telegraphic news is a common phase in journalism, which serves to elucidate and render more readable the concise statements which the wires furnish; but when a gentleman

> "Who never set a squadron i' the field,
> Nor the division of a battle knows,
> More than a spinster," pens learned lucubrations on Military Strategy, our grin of derision is softened by the gentle sigh of pity, and reflecting on the fickleness of popular favor we envy for our Generals the blessed oblivion of those great men who "lived before Agamemnon." Such being our feelings and impelled solely by the desire to awaken our neighbor of the Chronicle to the absurdly ludicrous nature of his elaborate military essays, we trust that a few critical comments on the propriety of his astute editorials on strategy, will neither excite his ire or offend his amour propre.

In a late issue, the Chronicle tells us that beyond the fact of MEADE'S retreat, we have nothing but conjecture relative to the battles and disasters of which rumors are commencing to flow thickly upon us. Whether it is this paucity of information that induces our neighbor to withdraw his confidence from our General-in-Chief, we are not told.

General HALLECK, educated as a soldier and whose life has been passed in camps, thought it necessary to send reinforcements to ROSECRANS. He knew that to be useful, they must be immediate, and he sent the only available troops and sent all of them. This action, our friend of military predilections but peaceful experience, tells us "was always thought and so stated by him to be very unwise policy." Who, may we ask, would probably be better informed in the premises, or better able to judge rightly from experience? The able General, with all the reliable information which his position enables him to obtain, issuing his orders from army headquarters, or our editorial friend in his snug sanctum, whose opinions are formed upon the meagre specials which are allowed to public curiosity. We have our opinion.

We quote: "LEE cannot be in great force on the Chickamauga and the Rappahannock at the same time." Strange, isn't it? We know now that LEE cannot be in two places, some hundreds of miles apart, at the same time, and are thankful for the information, "if he can compel MEADE to retire from the former, ROSECRANS ought to be able to compel BRAGG to skedaddle from the latter." Is our friend not too modest to judge so pointedly the ability of ROSECRANS' army, when ROSEY himself, with the returns of killed and wounded before him, thinks it proper not to advance at present? Would he not drive BRAGG if he could?

We would like to read the names of those "minor positions" in which the "shrewdness and policy of the rebels have sacrificed in order to be successful at one or two vital points." What point do we hold that we have not taken by arms in rebel despite?

Again, says our strategist, "our immense army is scattered over a whole continent, and a large portion wasted in distant and fruitless expeditions." It may be so; but we hope the expeditions to secure the command of the great river, which we opened to commerce at such cost of blood and treasure, will not be so considered by the people of the great valley. Yet if such detachments weaken too much our main armies, wherein lies the logic of blaming Gen. HALLECK for not sending other detachments to Wilmington, Raleigh or Weldon? Is it wise policy to state the number of MEADE'S reduced army? Or wherein has the gallant commander of the Excelsior brigade deserved the stigma sought to be put upon him by our military censors?

Seriously we get very tired of reading day by day these meaningless rhodomontades about "investments," and "regular approaches," these flings at our commanders, who, though not possessing the strategic ability of our learned neighbor, are doubtless doing their best, despite these "heavy wet" leaders "horribly stuffed with epithets of war." We hope the good taste of our neighbor will try to amend these things for the credit of the press.

HOW THE RUSSIANS TREAT DESERTERS.—A Paris letter says:

"The Russian government has adopted a new system with respect to the officers who desert to the insurgents. They declare them to be mad, and confine them in a lunatic asylum. Thus the official paper published at Kieff lately announced that an ensign of the Kranieutcherz regiment, named Apollo Kartacheff, confined in the fortress of Bobinsk for having failed in his duty to his sovereign and violated his oath, had become insane, proclaiming himself king of Poland, under the title of Apolinaire I."

THE INDIANA ELECTION.—The Indianapolis Journal says of the late election in that State:

"In Indiana the rebels are simply beaten to death. There is not enough left of them to crow over. So utter and humiliating a defeat has rarely befallen a party at any election, and never at an election containing so few elements of popular interest. In this county the Union majority will be doubled. In several others it will be largely increased. In none will it be diminished, as far as we now have news."

ILLUSTRATION is frequently more effective than argument, and an old Pennsylvania Democrat, who voted for Governor CURTIN, understood its force when he employed the following simile: "To send my son to the war to kill rebels, and to stay at home myself to vote against the Government, is like hitching a team of oxen to one end of a wagon and a team of horses to the other, when the only result will be of pulling the wagon to pieces."

COL. PERCY WYNDHAM, who a few days ago was relieved of his command in the Army of the Potomac, appeared at the front on Wednesday and besought Gen. MEADE to permit him to participate in the conflict which was going on. The General, however, refused his generous services, but complimented him upon his gallantry and patriotism.

EIGHT persons who have been indicted for participating in the draft disturbance in Boston, in July last, have been arraigned in the Supreme Court, and will shortly be tried for murder.

THE Mobile Tribune of the 3d instant admits that four thousand rebel prisoners were exchanged by Gen. ROSECRANS after the battle of Chicamauga.

BILLS have passed the Canada Parliament for the more efficient organization of the militia.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Reported Dead.—Mrs. Beacom, who was poisoned at McKeesport on Monday, it is reported has died.

In Session.—The Orphans' Court was in session on Saturday, and transacted a large amount of business.

Our Recent Victories.—A salute of one hundred guns was fired at Harrisburg, by officers of the Invalid Corps, in honor of the glorious civic victories in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Personal.—We had the pleasure of a visit on Saturday from Capt. J. T. Gibner, of the 140th regiment Penn'a Volunteers, who is now on his return to his regiment, having been engaged for some time past in canvassing the State for Curtin and the Union.

Sentenced.—In the Criminal Court on Saturday Robert Coulter, convicted of assault and battery, was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs. Wm. Croker, convicted on two indictments for assault and battery, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars in each case and the costs.

A New Counterfeit.—A couple of men arrived in Allegheny on Friday night having in their possession a large quantity of counterfeit two dollar bills on the Bank of Wheeling, which they were successful in shoving pretty extensively. They will doubtless be in this city to-day, and the public should be on the look out for them. One of them sports a moustache, but we were unable to obtain any definite description of them.

A Copperhead in Trouble.—On Saturday morning, on Federal street, Allegheny, a friend and supporter of Woodward had a difficulty with a United States Lieutenant, result nig ont of the late election. The rebel sympathizer exhibited to the lieutenant a copperhead pin, when the latter told him not to do so again or he would insult him. Copperhead persisting in flaunting the obnoxious article in the face of the officer, was immediately knocked down by him. As copperhead could'nt come to time his friends withdrew him from the street.

Brigadier General Alex. Hays.—We perceive by the reports of the recent battle of Bristow's Station, that our fellow-citizen, Brigadier General Alex. Hays, has again distinguished himself in action. This is the third time that Gen. Hays has fought Hill's corps—once before at Bristow's Station, then at Gettysburg, and now at Bristow again—and each time succeeded in repulsing his opponents. There is no more gallant or accomplished officer in the service than General Hays, and we are glad to hear of his success.

Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner McClung on Saturday held an inquest on the body of a man by the name of John Johnston, a carpenter, in the employ of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, who was killed at the Outer Depot, about four o clock this morning. It was his duty, in company with another carpenter, to couple the cars of the Accommodation train, and this morning, being somewhat behind time, he was in a great hurry to have them coupled before the engine came along. It is supposed that he pushed one of the cars with such force as to give it more than the ordinary momentum in coupling, and stooping to put the link in its proper place, his head was caught between the bumpers and crushed. When found he was still living, but died almost immediately after being taken out. He was thirty-five years of age, and resided at Darragh, where he leaves a wife and two children.

Gymnastics for Women.—We had the pleasure of a visit Saturday morning from two sisters, Misses Haskell, from Boston, who propose establishing an Academy of Physical Culture in this city. Those who have read the pleasant articles on Physical Culture by Dr. Dio Lewis need not be told that no more essential system of education could be taught the growing population. The exercise of light gymnastics for the young serves to give strength to the system, improve the symmetry of the body, and in every way conduces to physical development. The Misses Haskell are members of a highly respectable family, and are graduates of the Boston Normal Institute for Education. They come to us warmly recommended for their proficiency as teachers of improved calisthinics by Dr. Dio Lewis, and we would recommend them to parents and guardians. Those wishing to place their children under the Misses Haskell's care can leave their names at R. S. Davis', Wood street.

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—After an absence of some months, the young Pittsburgh favorite, Miss Ettie Henderson, will appear at the Theatre to-night. She will appear as "Fanchon,' in the play of that name, and in which she has made herself a great reputation throughout the States and in Great Britain. The play is well cast, and we expect to see that this favorite young actress will have a crowded house to welcome her back home once more.

THE POLYORAMA OF THE WAR.—This popular painting drew crowded houses to Masonic Hall every night last week, and, in obedience to a request from a large number of citizens, the proprietors have concluded to remain with us another week, commencing to-night. The painting is most admirably executed, and the lecture of Prof. Somerby is really eloquent. We look for crowded houses during the remainder of the Polyorama.

THE ENGLISH OPERA.—We trust our readers will not forget the English Opera, which opens a series of performances here at Concert Hall, on Wednesday evening next. Miss Richings ranks among the best of American tenors, and she will be ably supported.

A Double Case of Larceny.—Abrah'm Cornman is the proprietor of an oil boat, and is engaged in running from Oil Creek to this place. Among his hands is a notorious character, better known as a pilot, by the name of John Lewis Cups. Friday night Cornman laid down in the cabin of his boat, and went to sleep, having in his pocket $230 in cash, and a promissory note for $10. In the meantime, the hands all went to the theatre, and while they were gone, Cornman woke up and missed his pocket book and money. When the hands came home, Cups was not with them, and Cornman started out to find him, but did not succeed until Saturday morning, when he found him in the watch house. He acknowledged to have taken the money, but said that he only took it for safe keeping. Cups was found drunk on the steps of Trimble's Varieties, by the watchman, but had no money on his person, it having been stolen from him while in a state of intoxication. The result is, that Mr. Cups has been sent to jail, and Mr. Cornman will lose his money.

Barn Burnt.—The barn belonging to Thos. Munroe, in South Strabane township, Washington county, was totally destroyed by fire on Monday evening of last week. The building contained thirty tons of hay, six hundred bushels of oats, wagons, plows, harrows, etc. The total loss is estimated at three thousand dollars, on which there is an insurance of seven hundred dollars in the Washington County Mutual Company. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

An Elopement.—A German, named John Keichler, alias John Hart, suddenly left the city on Wednesday last, in company with a woman named Ricca Bart, leaving behind him a wife and several children. He won the affections of the woman with whom he left, by representing to her that he was a clerk in a store in Market street, when, in truth, the fellow ranked as a second-rate barber in a fancy shaving saloon in the Diamond. In making his arrangements for leaving the city, Keichler borrowed money and clothing from prominent citizens, as well as a watch and chain from a well-known Jew pedlar. No trace has been discovered of the whereabouts of the fugitives.

Wounded Pennsylvanians at Bristoe.—The following Pennsylvanians were wounded in the late battle of Bristoe: C. Alger, 1st Pennsylvania Cavalry; G. Grey, 146th Pa.; C. Ely, 1st Pa. Cavalry; R. S. Kent, 140th Pa.; Jacob Smeed, 145th Pa. Cavalry; A. H. Palmer, 145th Pa. Cavalry; A. Shank, 1st Pa. Cavalry; J. L. Barr, 1st Pa. Cpvalry; Sergeant J. Ward, 148th Pa; J. C. Rote, 148th Pa.; B. Deitz, 2d Del.; M. J. Coleman, 145th Pa.; Lieut. Col. J. K. Robinson, 17th Pa. Cavalry; Lieut. T. C. Lee, 145th Pa.; S. L. Barr, 148th Pa.; C. Spronsier, 64th Pa.; J. Vance, sick, 148th Pa.; Geo. Tile, 10th Penn'a Reserves, head and foot; Henry Powell, 11th Pa. Reserves, killed; George Lowman, 11th Pa. Reserves, arm; George Graham, 2d Pa. Reserves, wounded; Samuel Lowder, 2d Pa. Reserves, missing; Ernest Adderhold, 6th Pa. Reserves, leg; John A. Pippin, 5th Pa. Reserves, leg off; Corp. George W. Young, 5th Pa. Reserves, killed; John Waugh, 10th Regiment, reported killed.

The store of Barker & Co., 59 Market street, has evidently become the favorite resort of our city for purchasers of dry goods, either at wholesale or retail, and that no wonder it is so; their mammoth establishment, two hundred feet deep, is filled from cellar to attic with the most beautiful fabrics in the most exquisite colorings. Silks, Shawls, Cloaks, Dress Goods, Articles for the Housewife, Gentlemen's and Boys' wear are there to be found in the most lavish profusion. We congratulate our readers that they have a store second to none in the country for the quantity, variety and cheapness of its goods. All of their present stock was purchased before the late advance, and they are now selling at the comparatively low rates of three months since. Our readers in the country will find another admirable feature of their business of great interest to them particularly, that is, their having but one price to all alike. Country merchants will find this house deserving their particular attention—to them are offered extraordinary inducements.

Subscribers in Manchester can be supplied with the DAILY COMMERCIAL by leaving their names with John P. Hughes, tobacconist, Beaver street.

"Daily Commercial" Job Printing Office.—Orders for every style of Book and Job printing promptly and neatly executed, from a visiting card up to a mammoth poster. The most rapid and improved steam presses are used in the execution of the work.

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines, for family and manufacturing purposes, are the best in use. A. F. CHATONY, General Agent,
No. 18 Fifth street.

Woman Drowned.—Mrs. Sarah Latta, daughter of Wm. Latta, of Allen township, Washington county, was drowned on Thursday of last week by falling into a well, while laboring under a temporary fit of lunacy. She was aged about forty-three years.

Dwelling House Burned.—On Tuesday of last week, the elegant frame dwelling of Amos Swartz, of Amwell township, Washington county, was totally destroyed by fire, together with a portion of its contents. The fire was purely accidental. The loss amounts to about $1,500, on which there is no insurance.

Rejoicings in Washington, Pa.—We are informed that the loyal and patriotic citizens of Washington, Pa., had a grand display of fireworks on Friday night, with other manifestations of rejoicing, over the election of Gov. Curtin and of their county ticket. The people of Washington know how to get up a "gaudeamus," and we'll be bound their rejoicings of Friday night were of the right kind.

Gen. Sigel at Wheeling.—Gen. Sigel was introduced to both branches of the West Virginia Legislature, on Thursday last. He was welcomed in the Senate, in a neat speech by Mr. Hubbard, temporary President. Gen. Sigel responded, congratulating the people of West Virginia upon their success in rescuing the new State from the grasp of Southern traitors. The kind reception was more than he could expect, but he would do his best to deserve the honor, and to retain the sympathy and confidence of the American people. In the House, the distinguished visitor was welcomed by the Speaker, and in response remarked that as long as he remained on American soil—and he hoped it would be forever—he would do his best to help the country in peace and in war.

The Late Col. S. W. Black.

There has recently turned up a sad but interesting memento of Col. Black. It is now in the possession of his beloved and respected wife. A rebel officer, who witnessed the engagement in which the gallant Colonel lost his life, and no doubt intensely admired the bold dash and chivalric spirit which characterized his movements on that memorable occasion, saw him fall and die on the battle field. He was so much interested in the man, although an entire stranger and an enemy, he caused a photograph to be taken of him when dead, and endorsed on it, "A Brave Soldier." The photograph happened to be shown in a group of rebel officers, and one of them at once recognized it as the image of Col. S. W. Black, of Pittsburgh, Pa. This simple and brief tribute to the bravery of the Colonel, elicited from a stranger and an enemy, is not needed here. We all knew that he would be foremost in the battle—that he would emphatically lead his men. Strange that none of his soldiers—whom he had watched over like a brother, evincing the utmost solicitude for their health and comfort—did not peril everything to obtain his body. It would be pleasant if it were now resting beside his venerable father's, in the Allegheny Cemetery.

We presume copies from this photograph will be taken, so that his numerous friends here can obtain it.

The Western University.

Few things about our city have had more ups and downs than this venerable Institution. Its origin as a chartered University, dates back to the charter of our city. The massive stone building which was used in its earliest days, was burnt down by the fire of the 10th of April, 1845. The building on Duquesne Way, again fell before the flames a few years later. And now another convenient and substantial building upon Diamond street attests the zeal and energy of its Trustees.

At no time since its organization has the number and ability of its Teachers equalled the present. The numbers of the Professors at present engaged are eight.

It possesses an excellent cabinet of minerals, shells, etc., purchased a few years since from the Economites. Its chemical apparatus is ahead of that in any Western Institution of learning. The Professorship of chemistry and natural science, has been endowed, and the Trustees have secured the services of Prof. George T. Barker, now lecturing in the Albany Medical College. This gentleman is undoubtedly the most promising young lecturer of the country in the physical sciences. So says Prof. Silliman and others who know him intimately.

The Professors in the French and German languages are natives of the country whose languages they teach.

Professors Woods and Griggs have been so long connected with this Institution that their merits are known to nearly every resident of our city.

Professor Burnham, who has recently taken charge of the chair of Mathematics, brings with him the highest testimonials of scholarship, and also of success as an instructor. This Institution, like a great many other successful establishments in our city, has relied on its own merits to recommend it to favor. Very little printer's ink has ever been used upon it. We are fully convinced, having two of our sons among its pupils, that it entirely deserves the confidence of our community.

We can cheerfully recommend it to all those having sons to educate—and who desire them to have the benefit of a first class educational Insttution. Many of our citizens send their sons away from home to encounter all the risks incident to college life, and then have not a corps of Instructors by any means equal to what the Western university affords.

The Vote of the First Ward--What was Wong?

On Saturday evening a meeting of the "unterrified Democracy" of the county of Allegheny, was held at the County Club Room, corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets, for the purpose of ascertaining how it was that the Democracy of the First Ward did not stick to the ticket on Tuesday last. About three hundred of the unwashed, dissatisfied, met in conclave, some eighty or ninety, perhaps, of whom were voters in the First Ward.

The meeting was called to order by John McDonald Nesbitt, one of the three Woodward voters of Neville township, who nominated Mr. J. C. Buffum, of the First Ward, for Chairman, which nomination was sustained. On motion of the same gentleman, Messrs. Spence and Jacob Roth were chosen Vice Presidents, but neither of them seemed to be present and did not take their seats. William I. Maginn, Esq., was chosen Secretary on motion of Mr. Nesbitt.

The organization being complete, the chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to inquire into how it was that the Democracy of the First ward had polled only seventy-seven votes for their nominee for Governor, while the vote for the balance of their ticket was nearly two hundred. Mr. James Irvin, of the Second ward, then stated that he and Mr. Spence had distributed the Democratic ticket through the First ward, and pledged himself that the name of George W. Woodward for Governor was on every one of them. Although not a resident of the ward, he made a motion that the list of Democratic voters be called over, and that every one present signify whether they had voted for Woodward, and would be qualified. The motion prevailed, and Mr. Irvin proceeded to call over the list, and as the voters' names were called, he interrogated them.

He asked them if they examined their tickets; whether Woodward's name was in it; had they a vote in the ward, and would they be qualified that they voted the ticket. The first and second man called answered affirmatively, but the third did not respond.

Some ninety men, who declared they voted for Woodward in the First Ward, were then sworn to the fact, a very extra-judicial proceeding, if not a mockery of the sanctity of an oath. But these ninety men were willing to be qualified, and they were, with, we suppose, some "mental reservation." Perhaps they took their oath in their faith in the person who handed them their tickets, for certainly many of them could not have voted on their conscience.

But it would take more of our space than the subject deserves to give the entire proceedings. Suffice it to say, they were of the most farcical description, and productive of no satisfactory results. It may not have suggested itself to the managers of this political test meeting that many of the voters, whose misfortune in that respect we pity more than condemn, could not read their tickets. A friend of ours, who was at the polls on that day, asserts that a great number of their voters that came under his observation could not read.

The meeting wound up by harrangues from several lawyers present, but as the burthen of their song had no foundation in fact it is unnecessary to refer to them.

$402 Bounty.—The time for recruiting veteran volunteers has been extended to Dec. 1st, 1863. Four hundred and two dollars bounty will be paid to every accepted veteran recruit until that date, $60 of which will be paid in advance. Nine months' service will entitle the recruit to the bounty, providing he re-enlists in the same arm of the service to which he formerly belonged.

Godey's Lady's Book for November.—Our neighbor, John W. Pittock, sends us the last number of the ladies favorite Magazine. As usual, it is brim full of choice reading matter, besides plates of the Winter Fashions. Single numbers sold at 25 cents. Don't forget the place. Two doors above the Commercial office.

Homeward Bound.—General Negley has reached Louisville, from the front, his health requiring a short leave of absence, and he comes home to Pennsylvania to recuperate. The country which claims him as all its own will rejoice to hear of his recovery and return to active duty. Lieut. Moody, A. D. C., and Lieut. Barker, A. C. S., two meritorious young officers of General Negley's staff, have also a short and necessary respite from duty, and accompany him.

Armstrong Official.—After the most vigorous and closely contested campaign ever had in Armstrong county, the whole Union ticket has been elected. The following are the majorities:—A. A. Curtin, for Governor, 169; D. Agnew, Supreme Judge, 114; J. W. McKee, Assembly, 103; Jas. Quigley, Prothonotary, 18, P. K. Bowman, Register, 72; D. Slagle, Commissioner, 21; W. McClelland, County Treasurer, 7; S. Owens, Auditor, 28. J. E. Meredith and J. E. Stephenson were elected Trustees of the Kittanning Academy.

Railroad Accident.—On Wednesday there was a collision of two freight trains on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Duncannon. Quite a number of cars were destroyed, and owing to the force of the collision the wrecks were heaped up so high that they reached the telegraph wires. After the accident an immense mass of produce of every description could have been seen mixed up, presenting a novel sight. A man jumped from one of the trains and had his neck broken by striking a rock. We are informed that the property destroyed will reach $50,000 in value.

Capt. Giebner's Services.—We learn that Capt. Giebner did yeoman's service in the cause of the Union during his trip through Mercer county. While absent from the city, but a few days over three weeks, he made twenty speeches, and poured hot shot into the ranks of our opponents. The Woodward party were confident of carrying Mercer county by five hundred majority, but they made a miscalculation of some nine hundred, and Gov. Curtin carried the county. Capt. Giebner is as brave as he is eloquent, and deserves some recognition of his services from the Government, which he will receive. The captain leaves this morning for his command in the Army of the Potomac.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THE Gold market in New York on Saturday is reported as very irregular. The high point it touched the early part of the week led parties interested to believe that they could hold it there for a much longer time. It began to decline on Friday, and on Saturday it fell to 148. A rumor was current in New York that Mr. Chase was about to put $3,000,000 of gold in the market. But as far as we are advised, we think he has no idea of interfering with the market for gold. That he holds a large surplus over his wants for the November interest which might be legitimately employed and to advantage for the sinking fund, at 50 ₱ cent. premium, is no doubt true, and this fact may have given color to the rumor referred to. Nevertheless we have reason to believe it to be at least premature.

It is not unlikely that the rapid advance in gold will sooner be checked by the corresponding effect of the rise in Exchange upon the Produce market and the demand for the Public Stocks of the United States, than by any extraneous efforts of the head of the Treasury. The popular 5-20 years 6 per cent. has been going abroad on a liberal scale for some months, and this operation is accelerated by the present high rates of Exchange. It may be that the popular subscriptions to this loan will soon be closed at home; and the remainder of the five hundred millions originally authorized taken up by a combination of domestic and foreign money houses, at par, say in the proportion of $50,000,000 to be placed abroad and $100,000,000 taken for home distribution; the money to be paid into the Treasury by easy installments to suit the wants of the Treasury. The Philadelphia Ledger thus hints at what has already been surmised in this market:

"The sales by the subscription agent are large and are probably stimulated by the idea that has obtained credence that when the Secretary of the Treasury has disposed of all he is authorized to sell, except fifty or a hundred millions, outside parties will step in and take the amount remaining unsold—payments to be graduated to the convenience of the parties. Of course, any such operation will be for the purpose of making money, and this can only be done by selling at higher prices than they pay. The sales of these bonds abroad and the increasing domestic demand are fast narrowing the amount remaining unsold, leaving it uncertain at what moment the speculation mentioned may be entered upon. Hence the large sales. The sales reported by the Government agent in this city yesterday amounted to $2,024,150, the bonds being ready for delivery to the 10th inst."

In Philadelphia there is no apprehension of coming stringency, as the best authorities appear to be of the opinion that, so long as capital is pouring in so abundantly into our great financial centres, an increasing amount must always be available for loan purposes, especially so long as the value of the currency is not suddenly diminished.

Our Cincinnati neighbors are discussing how their winter's supply of coal is to be obtained. We have up here some four million of bushels ready for them, but must await a rise in the river before we can get it there. In the meantime they are looking to other places for it. The Commercial, of Saturday, remarks:

"There seems, at last to be some probability that the problem as to how we shall obtain our winter's supply of coal, will be very soon solved. By reference to the proceedings of Council, it will be seen that the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, recognizing its obligation to aid in averting a serious public calamity, propose to divert a portion of its rolling stock to the transportation of coal from Washington, Indiana, if it can be done under the direction of the city authorities, and distributed at cost. Communications from two different parties on the railroads running into Central and Southern Ohio, proposing to furnish coal, were also presented to Council, and referred to the Committee on the Coal Question."

CINCINNATI LEAF TOBACCO MARKET.—The sales amounted to 46 hhds., viz: 34 hhds. of leaf and lugs, and 12 hhds. of damaged common trash, as follows: 1 at $4, 6 at $5 65@5 85, 1 at $6 55, 7 at $7@7 95, 5 at $8@8 80, 5 at $9 55@9 75, 3 at $10 50@10 75, 2 at $11 25@11 75, 1 at $12@12 50; 2 at $13, 2 at $14 25, 1 at $16 50, 1 at $17 75, 1 at $18 25, 1 at $ 0, 1 at $22 25, 1 at $24 50, and 1 hhd. of Virginia at $68.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
Monday, October 19.

Business on Saturday was not very active. This, however, is a common occurrence on the last day of the week. The market was firm, with a steady demand for most of the leading articles. Former prices were well maintained; and it may be proper to remark that the receipts were very limited on account of navigation being suspended and our railroads overtaxed with freight. The rains that set in on Friday did not continue long enough to effect any improvement in navigation. Among the sales that came under our notice were the following:

APPLES.—Market firm, with a regular trade. Some 150 bbls. were disposed of at $2,50@3,25 ₱ barrel.

HAY.—The demand fell off. Notwithstanding the receipts were light, prices were a shade lower. Sales of 20 loads at the scales at $27@32 ₱ ton. Baled $28@29.

FLOUR.—We have no change to note either as regards price or demand. Dealers take hold very sparingly, while holders are very independent in their notions, being careless about parting with their stock even at the present figures, while buyers say, "Just wait until navigation opens, and then something will drop." With regular sales to the trade from store the rates were:

Extra—$5,50@5,75, as per quality.
Extra Family—$6,50@6,75 per bbl. Of course inferior brands were sold at lower figures.

BUTTER.—The demand was moderate, and sales regular at former prices. Sales of 1400 lbs. in lots of fresh at 20@22c.

EGGS.—Scarce and in fair demand. Sales at 15@16c.

CHEESE.—Market steady, but not very active. Sales of 120 boxes W. R. at 12@13c, as per quality.

SALT.—Market unchanged; the stock in first hands is light. Sales of 140 bbls from store at $2,50@2,60.

WHISKEY.—The market continues firm, with regular sales of city rectified at 58@60c. Prices west have declined.

GROCERIES.—The market remains very firm, with an active trade demand for the various descriptions. Our market contains a moderate supply. As prices are unchanged, we omit quotations. The grocery market throughout the East and West continues in a very excited state.

POTATOES.—The demand was not very active. We note regular sales of Neshannocks at 75@80c per bushel.

GRAIN.—Holders were firm, notwithstanding the decline in the West. As the sales were limited and prices unchanged, we think it unnecessary to give quotations.

PITTSBURGH OIL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
Monday, October 19.

We have no new feature to notice as regards this article. The demand was entirely local, and operations were of a limited description, as buyers decline taking hold at the present asking rates, hence matters remain very quiet. The stock in this market is very light. The receipts East were as follows:

To New York—Refined, 447; Tar, 70; Naptha, 90. To Philadelphia—Refined, 40; Benzole, 2,213; Crude, 329; Tar, 60 bbls. Imports per Allegheny Valley Railroad—Refined, 412; Crude, 56. Per Allegheny River—328 bbls. Per Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, 52 bbls, Refined.

Crude—The market was dull and inactive, the rates being altogether nominal at 25c., packages returned, and 29@30c., packages included.

Refined—We did not learn of any sales. The last one of Bonded reported was at 51c.; Free, 61@62c.

Oil City Oil Report.

The oil market has been somewhat depressed for the past week. The transactions have been limited for the reason that it is impossible to get any considerable quantity to market. There is a wide difference in the views of buyers and producers. A freshet in the river would remedy this matter, and doubtless the producer could make his own terms. In the absence of material sales we give as the ruling quotations at the wells $5,50@8 per bbl.; at this point, $6@6,75. We have heard of oil being offered as low as $5 per bbl. at the wells, but have no confirmation of the report. Freights to Pittsburgh, $1,60@$1,65. The market closes quiet, but firm, with but little offering.

FREEDOM IN LOUISIANA.—Gentlemen recently from New Orleans predict that loyal Louisiana will meet in convention next December, and adopt a free State Constitution, under which to resume her relations with the Union.

CHAPLAINS NOT TO BE HELD AS PRISONERS.—General MEREDITH has succeeded in effecting the release of all the chaplains of the Union army now held as prisoners of war by the rebels. In return our Government has released all rebel chaplains. About twenty-five were sent to City Point a few days ago. This policy, it is understood, will be carried out in the future, and chaplains will not be held as prisoners of war.

THE IRONSIDES NOT INJURED BY THE REBEL TORPEDO.—The Navy Department has received a dispatch from Admiral DAHLGREN, in which he states that the Ironsides was not injured in the slightest degree by the explosion of the torpedo placed under her by rebels. He says that the party who had the torpedo in charge were captured, together with their sailing orders, which furnish important information.

THE CAPTURE OF COLONEL DULANY.—It has been ascertained that the capture of Colonel DULANY, aid to GOV. PIERPONT, of Virginia, which occurred a few days ago, a short distance outside of Alexandria, was effected by Colonel DULANY'S own son, who entered the room where his father was, and applying a harsh epithet to the father on getting a sight of him, said he and his rebel friends had been hunting for him for some time, and now that they had secured him, he (young DULANY) declared that they were going to take him to Richmond, where he hoped he would be hung.

A Curious Story of French Crime.

The following is the latest story of French crime growing out of religious questions:

Some years ago, two men, Antoine Fillion and Claude Macuer, were working together in a silk manufactory at Lyons, and Fuillon conceived an intense hatred of Maucuer, Fillion left the manufactory, rejoined it, and was one of the hands turned off during a recent slackness of work. On the 30th of last June he came behind Maucuer and stabbed him in the back with a dinner-knife. The blow was instantly fatal, add Fillion, after having vainly revuested the bystanders to arrest him, sat calmly down to wait till the police came. In his pocket was found a written statement of the motive which had prompted the crime, and he stuck to his account of the matier at his trial. The motive was simple, but strange. He had committed the murder because Maucuer was a religious man. They had often had fierce arguments in the working room, in which Fillion reasoned as a general disbeliever in all religion, and Maucuer as an ardent Catholic.

Fillion, in his statement, drew a picture of the enormities he had to endure in his opponent. All the ideas of Maucuer, he said, were opposed to him. He believed the most absurd miracles; he never lost an opportunity of talking religion; "one would have supposed he wanted to proselytise"—an offence which Fillion regarded as other men would regard the wish to commit a murder or rape. At last a private wrong determined him to avenge himself and the world on this odious monster. His father stopped an allowance made him, on the ground that he had been discovered to be illegitimate; and this discovery was supposed to have been made by the confession of his mother, to which a priest had urged her. The confessor was, as Fillion termed it, "inaccessible," because Fillion could not find out who he was. But Maucuer was at hand, and Maucuer was the friend and supporter of priests. He "cherished that kind of canaille."

So Fillion stabbed him in the back, and set the world free from at least one religious man, which was some little contribution to the establishment of the pure doctrine which Fillion was anxious to propagate, and which he summed up by saying: "I see nothing in nature, on the earth or ont of the earth, save one grand Whole, infinitely varied, which aggregates itself into one." This was the view of things which satisfied Fillion, and for rejecting which Maucuer was killed. The strangest part of the business is that the jury thought there were extenuating circumstances in the murder, and so this hater of priests escaped the guillotine.

Ingenious and Successful Trick---A Man Robbed of Three Thousand Dollars.

Mr. Smith, of Andover, of the firm of Smith, Dove & Co., manufacturers, was in the Assistant Treasurer's office at the Custom House yesterday afternoon, between 1 and 2 o'clock, transacting some business, when he was adroitly victimized of $3,000 in cash. He had placed his pocket-book on the counter, when a person—a middle aged man—called his attention to a bank bill near him (Mr. Smith) on the floor. Mr. Smith stooped down and picked it up, but found that it did not belong to him. He passed it to one of the clerks, remarking that if no owner was found it might be given to some poor worthy person. While this was going on—a transaction that did not consume hardly a minute—the thoughtful individual seized Mr. Smith's pocket-book and left. No clue to him has been obtained. The clerks in the office have no recollection of any countenance, and it is probable that the successful rogue will be able to enjoy his golden plunder. The operation was rapid and bold, and, considering the place, very audacious.—Boston Post.

THE MORMON IMMIGRATION.—The Deseret News of September 15th, notices the arrival of several immigrant trains, conveying several hundred persons each, consisting principally of ox teams, and are from sixty to seventy days in making the journey from Florence, Nebraska, to Salt Lake City. The season had been remarkably dry on the Plains, and the hardships and the loss of stock have been much greater than usual. Considerable sickness has prevailed among the immigrants, and the loss of cattle has been large. Nine trains were still between Florence and Salt Lake City, September 15th. They number over 4,000 immigrants, and the last train is expected to arrive at the headquarters of the Latter Day Saints by the 1st of November. The returned Missionaries report unexampled success in the dissemination of Mormonism in the Old World.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS.—The St. Paul, (Minnesota,) Pioneer, says prairie chickens are so numerous in that vicinity that the people have no longer need to go out and hunt them. "During the past week," says the Pioneer, "quite a number have been caught alive in different parts of the city. On Wednesday a fat pullet flew into the bar-room of John Rogers, on Robert street, and was captured by him. Mr. Rogers assigns as a reason for the bird paying him the visit that the fowls of the air have learned of his disposition to 'wet the whistle' of every living thing in so dry a season, and thinks the bird must have been very dry. The greatest wonder to us is that the bird still lives."

IMPORTANT TO
Railway Companies, Mill Owners, &c.

We have erected and have in operation near this city an extensive Labratory for the manufacture of

LUBRICATING AND PAINT OIL,

by a new and ingenuous scientific process—and now offer and commend to public notice and patronage three grades, A, B and C, respectively of 1st, 2d and 3d quality LUBRICATING OIL. Wherever these lubricators have been tested they have been pronounced greatly superior to any of the preparation lately offered in the market. The A, or best quality is designed to take the place of the best Sperm Oil, and for use on cotton, woolen or other fine machinery. The B, or second quality for Railways and other like machinery, and the C, or third quality for heavy and course gearing, &c.
The PAINT OIL has been tested by numerous painters in this city, and found to be a Capital Substitute for Boiled Flax-seed Oil.
Indeed, many painters give it a decided preference. These OILS are now extensively manufactured at our
EUREKA LUBRIC OIL WORKS,
As the process is scientific and uniform, customers can rely on the uniform excellence of these economic equivalents of Sperm and Flax-seed Oil. A trial and test is confidently invited. For sale at No. 31 MARKET street, corner of Second.

MEDICAL.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

HEAR THE WITNESSES.

WORTHLESS and pernicious articles are so often bolstered up in the advertising columns of the press by fabricated letters that the proprietors of

HOSTETTER'S BITTTERS

Rarely give quotations from their business correspondence, lest the GENUINE OPINIONS of those who use and appreciate a GENUINE ARTICLE, should be confounded by the unthinking with the FULSOME RIGMAROLE put into the mouths of MEN OF STRAW by unscrupulous empirics and charlatans, whose double object is to SELL both their trash and the PUBLIC.
Believing, however, that FACTS IMPORTANT TO THE HEALTH AND COMFORT OF THE PUBLIC, and which can be VERIFIED AT ANY MOMENT by addressing the parties who vouch for them, ought not to be hid under a bushel, the undersigned publish below a few communications of recent date, to which they invite the attention of the people, and at the same time ESPECIALLY REQUEST all readers who may feel interested in the subject to ADDRESS THE INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES, and ascertain the correctness of the particulars.
It may be thought, perhaps, that a preparation like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which has long been a STANDARD TONIC throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE, and is rapidly becoming a staple of trade at the antipopes, speaks for itself in stronger tones than private eulogium can speak for it. This is true; but the phases of disease are almost innumerable, and every day new instances of the success of the Bitters, either as a PREVENTIVE or a CURE, come to the knowledge of the proprietors through the mails. Some of these are of immediate interest to thousands placed in precisely the same circumstances as the parties who have been PROTECTED and RELIEVED, and therefore it seems almost an act of duty to put them on record.
The immense increase in the sale of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, both at home and abroad, during the past year proves that the world, while it obeys the Scriptural injunction to "try all things," only "HOLDS FAST to that which is GOOD." Spurious preparations, like poisonous fungi, are continually springing up, but their character is soon discovered, and they are "flung like worthless weeds away." On the other hand, a great antidote that performs all it promises, and even more than its proprietors claimed for it on its introduction, is "not for a day, but for all time."
Every dose administered of a useless or deleterious nostrum helps to disabuse the public mind of the impressions it may have received from the flourish of trumpets with which the deceptious article was announced; while, on the contrary, every bottle sold of a purely valuable medicine secures the permanent custom of the purchaser, and makes him an ADVERTISER OF ITS MERITS among his friends. It is thus that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have obtained their unparalled popularity. The Press, indeed, has made the GREAT STOMACHIC widely known, but it is the uniformly successful results of PERSONAL EXPERIMENT that have rendered it a HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE through out the length and breadth of the land, and the main reliance of the TRAVELLER, the VOYAGER, the MINER and the PIONEER.
During the Summer months, a pure, wholesome tonic, in which are also incorporated the properties of an anti-bilious and mild aperient agent, is especially needed. Such a preparation is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the surest preventative and cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, and nervous debility, ever placed within the reach of the community.
Against the depressing and sickening tendency of heat and miasma, it is a potent safeguard, and upon persons of feeble constitution and uncertain health, its renovating effects are most extraordinary.

READ REV W. B. LEE'S LETTER.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 28, 1863.
MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—I have used your Bitters during the last six weeks and feel it due to you and the public to express my hearty approval of their effect upon me. I never wrote a puff for any one, and I abhor everything that savors of quackery. But your Bitters are entirely removed from the level of the mere nostrums of the day, being parent alike to all, and exactly what they profess to be. They are not advertised to cure everything, but they are recommended to assist nature in the alleviation and the ultimate healing of the most common infirmities of the body, and this they will accomplish. I had been unwell for two months, as is usual with me during the Spring. I was bilious, and suffering from indigestion and a general disease of the mucous membrane, and though compelled to keep at work in the discharge of my professional duties, was very weak, of a yellow complexion, had no appetite and was much of the time confined to my bed. When I had been taking your bitters a week my vigor returned, the sallow complexion was all gone, I relished my food, and now I enjoy the duties of mental application, which so recently were so very irksome and burdensome to me. When I used your bitters I felt a change every day. These are facts. All inference must be made by each individual for himself.
Yours respectfully,
W. B. LEE,
Pastor of Green avenue Presbyterian Church.

READ E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH'S LETTER.
PROSPECT COTTAGE,
GEORGETOWN, D. C., April 2, 1863.
MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to those of others in favor of your excellent preparation. Several years of residence on the banks of a Southern river, and of close application to literary work, had so thoroughly exhausted my nervous system and undermined my health, that I had become a martyr to dyspepsia, and nervous headaches recurring at short intervals, and defying all known remedies in the Materia Medica, I had come to the conclusion that nothing but a total change of residence and pursuits would restore my health, when a friend recommended Hostetter's Bitters. I procured a bottle as an experiment. It required but one bottle to convince me that I had found at last the right combination of remedies. The relief afforded me has been complete. It is now some years since I first tried Hostetter's bitters, and it is but just to say that I have found the preparation all that it claims to be. It is a standard family cordial with us; and even as a stimulant we like it better than anything else; but we use it in all nervous, bilious and dyspeptic cases from fever down to toothache. If what I have now said will lead any dyspeptic or nervous invalid to a sure remedy, I shall have done some good.
I remain, gentlemen, respectfully yours,

READ JOHN W. BRONOUGH'S LETTER.
NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Yards and Docks, Dec. 30, 1862.
Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
Gentlemen: About four years since, my attention was called to your celebrated Stomach Bitters, I being at the time a perfect martyr to dyspepsia in all of its terrific forms; indeed, I had not known for six years an uninterrupted night's sleep. I commenced the use of your Bitters, taking them according to your directions, except that the dose was reduced to one-half, and found myself much, very much benefitted by the first bottle; the second relieved me entirely; but I have ever since taken a dose in the morning, immediately on rising, finding it act as a tonic and appetizer of the most agreeable character. There is peculiarity in the effect of your Bitters on me, which it may be well to state. If from any cause, I shall be suffering never so acutely with the headache, a dose of your Bitters relieves me in fifteen minutes. In conclusion, I say with all sincerity and truth, I would not be returned to the state of health in which your Bitters found me, and from which they have unquestionably relieved me, for all the money in the world.
I am, with great respect, your obd't servant,
JOHN W. BRONOUGH, Chief Clerk.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Dear Sirs: Will you do me the favor to forward, by express, one-half dozen Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with bill, for which I will remit you on receipt of the same, as I am unable to procure your medicine here; and if I had a quality, it could be sold readily, as it is known to be the best preparation in use for diseases having their origin with a diseased stomach. I have used and sold hundreds of preparations, but your Bitters are superior to anything of the kind I am cognizant with. Indeed, no soldier should be without it, should he be ever so robust and healthy; for it is not only a Restorative, but a Preventative, for almost all diseases a soldier is subject to. I have been afflicted with chronic indigestion, and no medicine has ever afforded me the relief yours has; and I trust you will lose no time in sending the Bitters ordered. Yours respectfully,
SAMUEL BYERS, Hospt.

RENSSELAERVILLE, July 7, 1864.
Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—Please send me some of your Bitters at your earliest convenience, as I have at present an extensive sale for them. I have no medicine of which I sell as much as your Bitters. I have kept them for two years past. They have now begun to sell. They have performed some remarkable cures in Dyspepsia which have been of long standing, and from which they have acquired a reputation won by no other medicine in our market. I can send you certificates surpassing anything you ever published, if of any value to you, being anxious such a medicine should be introduced in every place. If persons were as well acquainted with it as I am, they would not be without it. Respectfully yours,
W. P. SWEET, Druggist,
